Lifting Love; Grow Free and Be - Duet Poetry

Poetry is a tallest peak, finding way for us to climb discerning how we could see a pure vision of life.

Awakening in-flows to rise and pour us forth traveling with subtle might of heavenly heights.

Poetry is the flowing Ganges - giving to live as grace quenching all thirst, divine bliss gifts all knowledge.

Surrendering care for every wish that will become free rolling Maa Ganga flows her sacred breaths to share.

Poetry is a glimpse of truth, rising air that's so fragrant flying fast love's wings of mysticism and imagination.

Invoking light's magnificence – shine the diamond within swirling mirrors go glimmering tears of stars' twinkling.

Poetry is a growing Banyan tree - giving refuge onto all sheltering the tired mind with heart's infinite root of love.

Merging into a deepened silence with peace that's sung gifting love's compassion, freely loving one as everything.

Poetry is an inside temple that's shining as an earthly body purifying emotions equally, sharing them all as blessings.

Caring deeply for how we are to hear joy's flute playing on touching spirit within soul - lifting love; grow free and be.

Love's Universal Universe - Duet Poetry

Come now - we are returning waking up inside of our waking dream being fully awake in soul of living

Pace within heart's rhythmic core kiss the flows in soul's breaths of air; gliding love's heights – loving free to be

Being a Buddha [enlightening] experiencing all bliss-peace within heart's perennial nectar's are flowing

Gifts of eagle's wings - flight of liberation beats within heart's synchronicity; loving all with Mother Earth

We are really nothing physically absolutely nothing at all just love's giving – deep divine existence

Being one with stars, sky, sun, and earth as one with oneness - within spirit's light we'll become inseparable from the separate

Now for our becoming large from small we're only to become our self in all; Love's universal – universe
