

THAN EVER BEFORE

Strong and valorous than ever before
'Cause the gun on my back protects me
Alert and awake than ever before
'Cause the terrifying noise asked me
Mad and exasperated than ever before
'Cause these blood waves instigated me
Lost and shook than ever before
'Cause our home is now broken to memories for me
Broken and shattered than ever before
'Cause they destroyed a life sprouting inside me
Desolated and tortured than ever before
'Cause I buried the ones who nourished me
Hungry and burnt than ever before
'Cause I see pieces of bread scattered around me
Distressed and hardship than ever before
'Cause I hear the little ones scream around me
Confused and worried than ever before

‘Cause I see no trees and birds above me

Disturbed and obsessed than ever before

‘Cause the feelings are locked inside me

Filled and fixed than ever before

‘Cause the refugee camps shelters me

Fearless and thirsty than ever before

‘Cause the scars on my body reminds me

Fighting and determined than ever before

‘Cause this time the guardian angel is not from heaven

They are taking their birth in each of us

In you and me

For a world of peace, love and virtue.
