“Yester was the day of love”
Today no more,
Yester were the colors
Today no more,
I dwell in past to and fro
And life is sweet and sour,
But thine love holds me
And caring heart reminds me,
Love shall remain forever
We both be there or not.

And life took turns
You changed and I changed
Forgotten that love, but
Miserable destiny didn't change,
You crossed my path
And I silently loved,
For my silence you thought is hatred
And again departed
For life long hatred conquered us,
Not love

Again are alone
You love me and I love you
You pretend and I pretend
And now again to say to roads diverged, in this world
Would never meet,
This heart wants love,

And we've given it ego,
How beautiful it did be
That we unite to love,
As we love madly
Moments to go together
Love to dwell in hearts
Till my last breathe,
To say "I love you"

And then came another morn,
It felt as if I was in a dream,
Someone returned after seven years hitch,
It felt as if I regained conscious,
And as I mingle in his arms,
Life and love surrounded me again
You came and brought love back
And hence we are together
Forever or not
I'm not sure
But still
I accept your love is eternal
And I love you back.

TIMELESS YOU AND TIMELESS ME

The sun takes a spur and yet is here again,
But not even a sign of hope to dwell in me.
Life's now a deserted street,
Street that lead me to past,
Arguments of haze,
That led me to awe,
Oh! But do not ask what this awe is,
Come on now let me take you to future.
For it is better than present

Though a Virgo once told me
 Present is present and there is no future
 Yet I go against him
 I want to dwell
 I want to dwell in future again,
 Oh do not snatch this from me
 For it's my world.
 And lo the future years have come
 Hereby we begin new
 I'm a girl of awaited version
 For long I've longed for this change
 And so the change is here

Away from the past and away from the people,
 I began new in a country of Swiss
 There on a street I found you again
 Dressed like a man of thirty
 Eyes wide as before,
 Hands of wax and setup of business
 And as you held my hand
 I whisper again
 Let us go now you and me
 For us,
 This eve is set against the sky
 Passing through the streets of past
 Let the love dwell in our hearts
 Once you said there will be time
 And so the time is here
 Where we are together
 Time for you and time for me
 A lifetime to dwell in arms of thee
 For long haven't we waited .....to climb the stairs back
 Time is here to review .....Hundred revisions of past
 Oh but now I say your words
 Forget the past and dwell in present
 Where there is

Time for you and time for me
No longer the nights
Be alone now
For you'll surround me
Desires vanish,
As you were my end
Let the world be a place for others
For you are my world now
And so the doors closed
For I sleep in arms of thee.
