

Mind matters

Biswanath Kundu

Mind gets loaded with thoughts from morn to midnight
Majority stays covered; a few get caught in public sight
Chains work not to fasten mind or arrest its wing to fly
Even in a trance mind runs either for the truth or a lie
Candid confession of the psyche is but a distant reality
For, seldom it finds shared that is feared to rob gaiety
It's very hard to discard the call dominant within self
Never does it go silenced with effect of power and pelf
Association keeps mind engaged in fields of resolve,
Wipes out booted tars, takes close for odds to solve
Passions and reasons play duel almost in every mind
The greater the mix with real life, choice is an easy find
With doors shut lest we be mistaken, is not a solution
Mind wins seat, glorious and neat in company of volition.

Dissent has a scent

Force is not always a source to get fine from coarse origin
Used indiscriminately it gains nothing but rests in a dustbin

Taken into confidence is the first step to hit something noble
Relishing the delicious items permits not to resort to gobble
Something great has always been built with supports of many Decay starts in if revolts pop up from trusted lieutenant of any Variation in thought process is not unlikely in a very big set up
Fruition sets in if reconciliatory amends be made quick and sharp
Honoring the potentiality of everyone around is of prime need
For, this lowers not own value but strengthens self base to lead
Why is then hesitation to befriend others and pick up the bests?
Proven a failure, sure are we to be tagged with ill fated in all tests.
Life scales to a glorious height if dissenting voices are also heard
Let's not get confined with sweet words for own entity to guard.
